DISCOVER
ILKLEY & AREA

Ilkley provides a highly desirable living environment with excellent retail, recreational and social facilities including healthcare, a cinema, theatre and the Winter Gardens. Sports clubs range from the renowned Ilkley Golf Club through to popular cricket and rugby clubs, as well as the community's tennis and squash club which also offers gym facilities and fitness classes.

Ilkley retains a magnificent Grade II listed 1930s lido – the outdoor pool being a hub for social activity over the summer months, and a setting from where one can both soak up the sun and enjoy the magnificent views towards the town's famous moors.

Those in search of a culinary experience will find plenty of opportunities – from street side cafés, wine bars and bistros, to the famous Box Tree restaurant and also the Burlington restaurant at the Devonshire Arms in Bolton Abbey.

Ilkley blossomed during the Victorian period when lands were released for development and a number of spa hotels were built to cater for those looking to take in the invigorating waters. The prominent white painted public bath house on Ilkley moor is still popular with those taking a traditional refreshing New Year's day dip!

So much that this bustling town has to offer is within comfortable walking distance of Langbar House. It is little wonder The Sunday Times gave the town the accolade of 'best place to live' in the North East of England in the spring of 2021. Come and experience it for yourself!

A ENVIABLE ADDRESS IN A PRIME LOCATION

Langbar House stands proudly in the heart of Ilkley, one of the spa town's most prominent buildings - reflecting its history as the one time home of Martins Bank.

So much that Ilkley has to offer is close to hand. Within a moments are the shops of Station Plaza and The Grove, The Winter Gardens and library and a host of cafes and bars. Mill Ghyll runs to the western side of Langbar House and forms a delightful sylvan streamside promenade, whilst a stroll up Wells Promenade leads to the Georgian buildings of West Park, with the town's famous moors a little beyond.

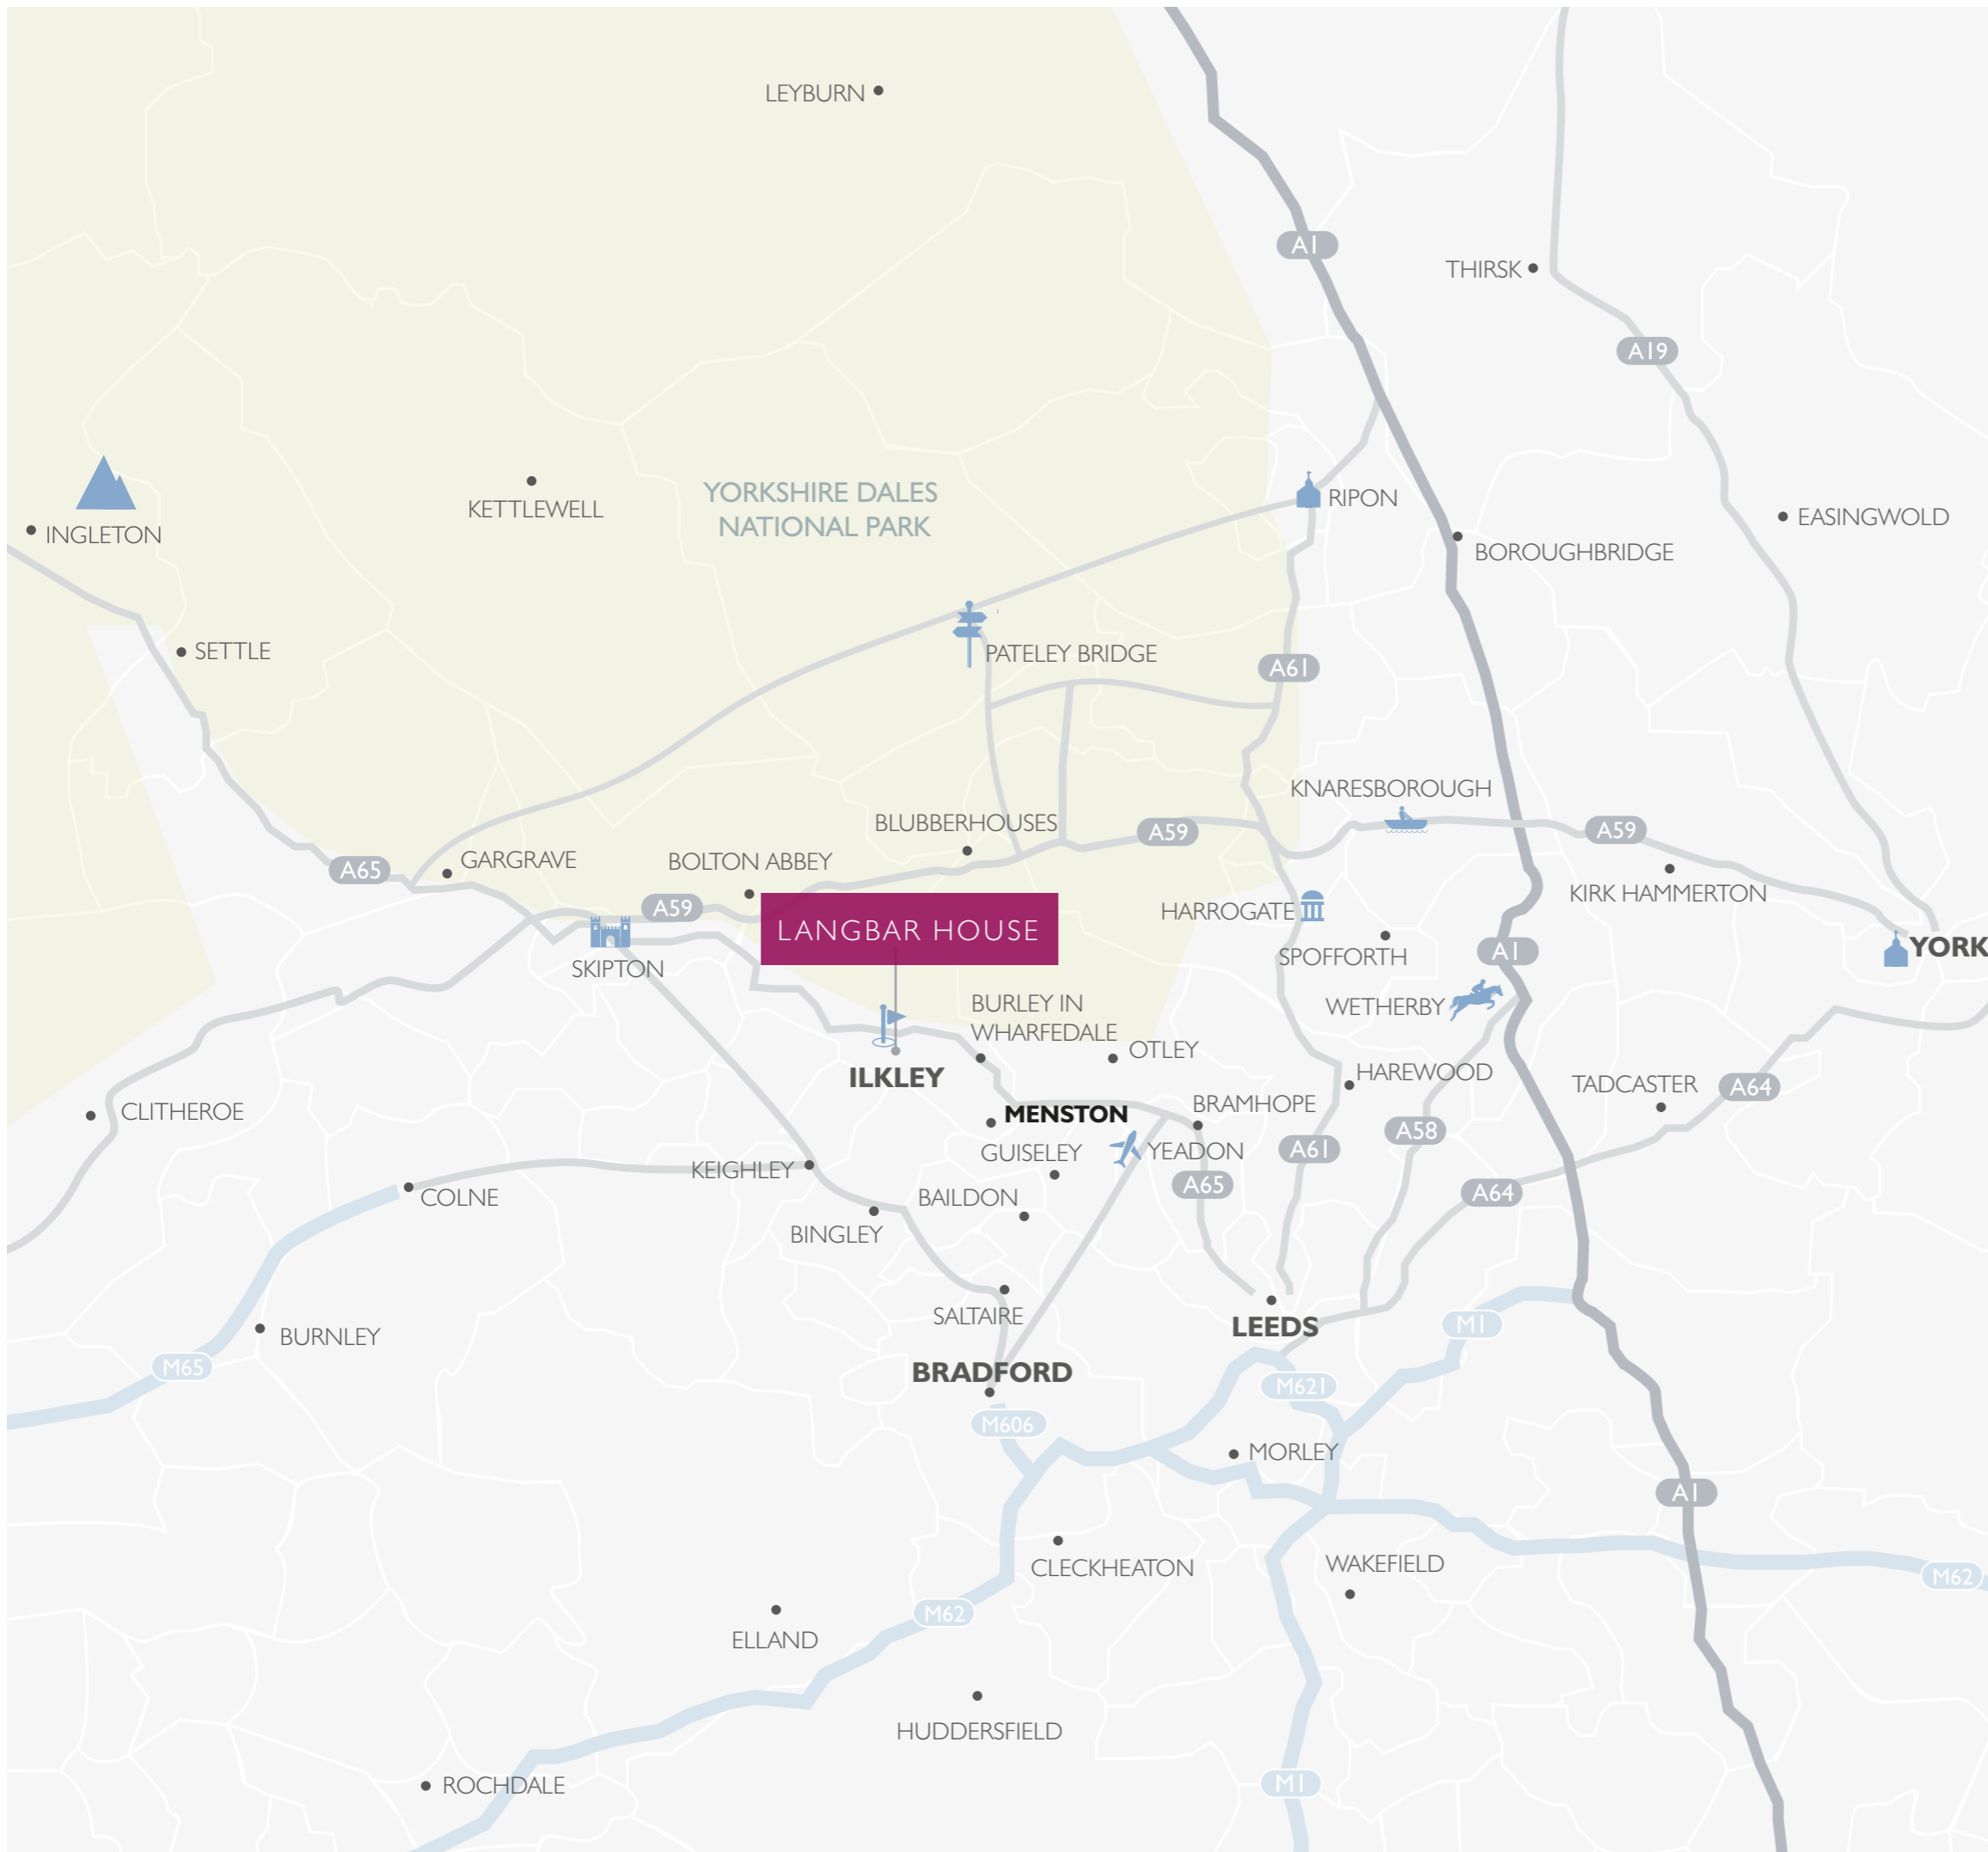

A SHORT DISTANCE FROM SCENERY OR CITY

Ilkley has its own thriving retail centre, with 'high street' and local traders grouped around The Grove and other pleasant shopping streets.

For those seeking more choice and diversity the vibrant centres of Leeds, Harrogate and York are within easy reach and provide their own individual style of shopping, dining and heritage.

For a more comfortable pace of life the Yorkshire Dales National Park is to be found a few miles to the north of Ilkley and offers some of England's finest countryside, with beautiful river valleys separated by magnificent hill and fell scenery.

IN THE HEART OF IT ALL

Standing close to the threshold of the Yorkshire Dales National Park amidst some of Wharfedale's most glorious scenery, Ilkley combines ready access to beautiful open countryside with excellent connectivity to regional business centres and retail destinations.

The A1, with its north/south links, can easily be reached within 45 minutes and the town benefits from its own centrally located Metro railway station which offers frequent services throughout the day into both Leeds and Bradford – from the former there are regular daily connections to London Kings Cross.
